

For Immediate Release
March 25, 2019

Contact: Charles Scribner, executive director, Black Warrior Riverkeeper: (205) 458-0095, info@blackwarriorriver.org

Earthbound's Earthfest Celebrates Black Warrior Riverkeeper

Birmingham, Ala. – Saturday, April 20, 2pm to sundown, Earthbound headlines Earthbound's Earthfest, their annual outdoor concert at Avondale Brewery (21 41st St S, Birmingham, AL 35222). The event celebrates Earth Day and promotes Black Warrior Riverkeeper, a nonprofit clean water advocacy organization protecting Alabama's Black Warrior River watershed.

The family friendly concert is open to pets and people of all ages, although guests under 21 must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. Suggested $5 donations at the door will support Black Warrior Riverkeeper, as will the proceeds from merchandise, art, beer, and food trucks. The event's top sponsors this year are Mercedes-Benz U.S. International, Inc. and Skates 280.

"Earthbound's Earthfest is perfect for anyone who wants to enjoy great music and fellowship while helping promote clean water," explained Charles Scribner, executive director of Black Warrior Riverkeeper.

To become an event sponsor or volunteer, email info@blackwarriorriver.org

To visit the Facebook event page for Earthbound's Earthfest 2019, click here

To view Nelson Brooke's high-resolution picture from Earthbound's Earthfest 2018, click here

To view Wolf Creek Creations' high-resolution poster for Earthbound's Earthfest 2019, click here

###

Black Warrior Riverkeeper's mission is to protect and restore the Black Warrior River and its tributaries. The citizen-based nonprofit organization promotes clean water for improved public health, recreation, and wildlife habitat throughout the Black Warrior River watershed. Learn more at BlackWarriorRiver.org.